Tradition Alive in the New Millennium: Aztec dancers to perform at Lake Washington Technical College.

On Friday, October 17, 2003 a gathering of Indigenous Nations from across the Americas, from Guatemala and Puerto Alaska, from California to New York, will get a second chance to see a traditional Aztec dance at Lake Washington Technical College at 12:00 pm. All interested persons, press and media are invited to attend the event, which honors a tradition that dates back to before the great flood.

This event marks the conclusion of thee United Native Nations International Gathering of Chiefs, Spiritual Leaders, Elders and Warriors, which is meeting in Legislative Assembly this week in Kirkland, Washington, at Lake Washington Technical College. Secretary General Rudy Al James and First Chief David Bald Eagle, report that the purpose of the UNN is "Sovereignty" and to "promote the continuation and advancement of Indigenous Peoples, honor our ancestors and help bring about the fulfillment of our ancient prophecies."

End.
